Slowly the nation rose in the scale of civilization and, after St. Patrick taught them the Christian religion, they earneatiy cultivated learning and from the fifth to the aixth century Ireland became the achool of Europe and was called "the Island of Saints and Scholars." Hallam, the great English historian, says that from the sixth to the eleventh century most remarkable man" in a literary and philosophicsi senae was John Scotus, an Irishman. While the rest of Europe was distracted by aimost continuous war. Ireland's monastic cloisters were thronged by learned monks and by students from every civilized land. One hundred fifty-five Irish saints were recorded and venerated in the churches of Germany and large numbers in other churches of Europe. Later the fierco, roving Danes from the western coast of Europe pillaged a great part of freiand and internal dissensions completed the further ruln of her schools and unithese internal dissensions, the Engilah were able to ruin and enslave her. A court official in Missourl writes In the mountainous district of that State a tall, gaunt specimen of the mountaineer, whose Christian name was Joshua, was recently arraigued in the criminal branch of the Federal court, on a chargo of illicit distilling. During the proceedings, the Judge, in a friendly manner, turned to the defendant and remarked: "Your name is Joshua, is it? suppose you are the man who cont manded the sun to stand still." "No," was the quick response of the moun-"I am the man who is charged with making the moon-shine."

FIRST STEPS

night was lively and interesting from adjournment. The most important matter for consideration was the reception to be accorded National President Regan when he visits Louisville this fall. Following the announcement of his intended coming there was an interesting discussion, participated in by Martin Cusick, James Barry, Thomas Dolan, The winds with their rainy sweetness David O'Conneil and others, the consensus of opinion heing that Division suggest to the County Board the holding of a great public meeting, to he followed by a hanquet.

President Coleman and Secretary Stevens were present as a committee from Division 3, and without a dis-senting voice Division 1 dispensed with the meeting for the second Tuesday in October, when there will be a big initiation under the auspices of Division 3. This action goes to show the unity and friendly feeling that prevalls among the Hibernians of the Falis Clties. The Visiting Committee reported members, Thomas Shannon and John Holden, still on the slck list. For the coming year a new degree team Our country needs grand and has been organized with Tom Dolan the memhership campaign that will take place this fall.

MODERNISM.

Brief Explanation of This Much Misunderstood Question.

It is very difficult, if not impossible, to give any adequate idea of modernism in a few words. sure to hring good results. Denver Council publishes weekly a list of visitors from other cities wito register at the council building. A lively time is promised at the meeting of Division 4 next Monday night, as their unfinished dehate of wo weeks' ago will he reopened. The annual reunion of the nindivisions of Allegany county at Midland, Maryland, was preceded by a parade divided into six divisions.

Division 3 has made a good start for a season of activity. Let the others fall in line and the membership in the Falls Cities will be doubled.

The County Board held an interesting session last evening and received President Coleman's report in regard to National President Regan's visit this fall.

Two divisions and the Hiharnian Rifles were prominent in the parade and exercises attending the corner stone laying of the new St. Joseph's church at Newport, R. I.

There is much enthusiasm over the division lately organized at Dougherty, Iowa, which has prospects for a memhership of 150 to 200 before the end of the year.

Three degree toams ought to he ahie to meet ail the initiatory requirements for the coming winter. It ls now up to the members to secure candidates and thus keep the teams

Thirty candidates were initiated Wednesday by the division at Janes-ville, Wis. State President Calian and Prof. Rohan, Chalrman of the National Irish History Committee, witnessed the ceremonies.

The coming of National President Regan should he made the occasion of one of the largest frish-American gatherings ever assembled in Louisvlije. From what we learn a genuine Kentucky weicome awaits him.

Dunkirk Hihernians have taken steps to have Regents' counts for frish history. This study was added to the curriculum of St. Mary's Academy some time ago, but the State Regents have made no allowance. Local legislators are aiding the movement with hopes for success. The hall of Ladies' Auxiliary 11 of San Francisco was a decided success. Mrs. T. P. O'Dowd, County President, led the grand march, escorted hy Mayor McCarthy. On account of the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Mc-Sarthy, wife of the Mayor, a beauti ful fioral harp was sent her hy the
